Lambeth Civic Quarter - Mixed-use urban renewal in Brixton, London is going to be detailed by Architect James Pickard. \ This new civic quarter is centered around the refurbishment and expansion of the 1908 Grade II listed Lambeth Town Hall. The project has reduced the Council's core office buildings from 14 to 2, reducing their carbon footprint by a third and saving taxpayers £4.5m a year. It has also received recognition from the Constructing Excellence National Awards winning in the Preservation and Rejuvenation category, along with nominations from the Building Awards, RICS Awards and AJ Architecture Awards.

Martin Knuijt, Director @OKRA Landscape Architects will hold a lecture about a very debated topic, a green future for cities - climate adaptive public space in European cities.

One of the projects presented by Antonio Virga at SHARE Budapest 2019 is the project L'Atoll. This ring offers an exceptional landscaping with a wood for 'lagoon', trees that flood the parking lots in the greenery. Thanks to the continuity of its curves, each business has the 'best location' and its spectacular architecture wishes to offer a new shopping experience.
